A Date Night Generator

Landing Page

---

A simple and elegant landing page that will take a location from the user and then return search results for a date night. The application will pull local results for an event or activity and somewhere to get a meal .

A Local Date Night Generator

Results Page

A very clean results page where the information from the search will be rendered. It will include a map with both locations displayed. The side bar will retrieve and display both locations as well as photos.
